The literature relating to the care of older people and the management of their physical disabilities is reviewed. Personal mobility and the issue of assisted mobility is dealt with in detail. The aim is to place the review within a contemporary context, by exploring current developments in physical rehabilitation and older people's care. A narrative review of the literature relating to physical rehabilitation and the care of older people was undertaken. The following databases were searched: Medline, PubMed, Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews, CINAHL, EMBASE, Psychinfo, Web of Science, Scopus, and BNI. Social Science Citation Index was searched to identify grey literature. A manual search of several key journals and reference lists was also performed. Original research papers, reviews, and research abstracts were included if they were published between 2000 and 2012. A narrative review was undertaken of the literature relating to the care of older people and mobility in general. This included any paper which dealt with the management of physical disabilities in the elderly but also included the use of assistive devices and mobility aids as discussed in the review. Over 2500 papers were retrieved. After the exclusion of non-English and non-Medline articles, those which mentioned physical rehabilitation were included. A total of 67 papers were retrieved. Thirty-two papers were in this review. Social contexts, concepts, theories, methods, and practical developments that were relevant to current mobility policy and practice in the UK in terms of assisting people with disabilities in their everyday lives are discussed. Discussion of the management of physical disabilities in the elderly is also examined.Q: Struts 2: How do I write a custom EnumAction class for Struts 2 Enum? How can I use NamedQueries to specify a dynamic name? Lets say I want to query if this column exists. I want to use something like this: SELECT * FROM Props p WHERE colExists('p.name', :name) A: As far as I understand, you are looking to query for values in a column that is called Name. The name of a table column is not a JPA entity attribute. It will therefore be a normal column of the database table. You therefore have to use standard SQL queries.
